

asking the community to finish the sentence...

Budget:
75ft long outdoor christmas lights = $25
x 17 (1 light string per 2 trees)
= $425

$500-$425 = $75
Extension Cords ~ $75

The Plaza of Castaner needs a shock of life, a shock of light rather. By providing both a visually intriguing space from a distance, as well as a perfect space for evening entertainment, the plaza can finally come alive. The lights would act as a starting point for further interventions possibly made by the community in the future. But, for now, we could intervene by providing a roof and surrounding walls of twinkle lights that might provoke community members to bring their own chairs and tables, drinks and snacks to hang out in the evenings. Where could we get the electricity to power this endeavor? There are several power lines located around the plaza, or we could potentially connect to the stage with extension cords. We might not have the biggest budget to provide all the amenities for the community in this plaza, but we could shock them and ask them to finish the sentence we'll have started there.

Castaner, Puerto Rico

Lights. Excite. Alive.
